

Kianjai Huggan is the Curriculum Coordinator at Black Girls CODE. She graduated with a degree in Computer Science and Engineering from the University of Connecticut in May 2020. In her current role, she works in product development, training coding instructors, aligning computer science curriculum, and developing other creative ways for students to engage in STEM fields. She loves working with K-12 students and showing them how cool STEM really is. Her goal is to diversify STEM fields and empower students to know that they are capable of pursuing and excelling in any field.
